Sales Process Reform | Enhance our strengths to "connect" with customers by building an effective sales force

Establish "District Governance Structure"

We assigned four District Supervisors for each area to strengthen our District Governance Structure. By engaging in bottom-up autonomous district management, in which districts are delegated a certain level of authority to develop regional strategies, set goals, etc., we aim to ensure sustainable growth of the region and customers and the sustainable profitability of the Bank in each district.

Establishing a New Digitally-Based Sales Style

To address the more varied needs of our customers, we are working to shift to more effective sales activities by utilizing Office 365 and e-contracts which allow us to complete loan contracts online. The e-contract rate* as of March 2024 is 96.4% for housing loans and 73.8% for ordinary loans. In July 2023, we introduced the Gungin Business Portal to further improve efficiency.

Branch Administrative Reforms

In March 2024, we introduced tablets to our branches that allow for paperless, operation-less, and seal-less processes for tasks such as opening regular savings accounts and changing addresses or phone numbers. Moving forward, we will continue to expand the range of procedures covered by these tablets and pursue administrative reforms centered around them, aiming to reduce processing times and cut down on terminal and cost expenses during the upgrade of branch systems scheduled for fiscal 2027.

Business Reform Project

In the Business Reform Project that started in 2019, a crossdivisional working group at headquarters takes the lead in working on business reforms. In the current mid-term business plan, we will further improve operational efficiency by working to deepen two themes: eliminating operational waste and zeroing out reporting work. In terms of eliminating operational waste, or cutting down on wasted work, out of the 6,905 suggestions we received from employees regarding the cancelation or review of work operations, 1,274 were adopted, saving 690,000 work hours over the course of the year.

In terms of zeroing out reporting work, we are eliminating the reports that are less important or no longer required. Additionally, in 2023, we introduced a dashboard that visualizes figures and the progress status of each measure. With the introduction of a dashboard, branch offices can now input information related to their initiatives and project management directly onto the dashboard. This system allows executives and the head office to check overall progress and performance in real-time. As a result, we are working towards eliminating the need for branches to create reports for updates.

Going forward, we will promote further use of this dashboard, continuing to work on initiatives that simplify or do away with the reporting process.

Branch Strategy

With the increasing adoption of digital channels such as internet banking and the Gungin app, the number of customers visiting bank branches has been steadily declining. However, to meet a wide range of needs—such as specialized consultations on inheritance and asset management, as well as the still prevalent demand for cash transactions—we are optimizing our branch network and functions, while expanding our consultation hubs and ATM partnerships.

Optimization of branch network and functions

We have already consolidated 44 branches through a Branchin-Branch approach. Moving forward, we will continue with branch consolidations while considering regional characteristics comprehensively and in conjunction with renovations of existing branches.

In terms of branch functionality, we have introduced a flagship system* in four regions. This system allows us to provide optimal financial services to our customers by leveraging the regional branch network.
